

THE PLAN – PART I

Whether you know it or not: The Enemy has a plan. In that plan he intends to take control of the entire globe, and every aspect of it. It is Satan's notion to set up a One World Government. That government will feature one source of political control, one economy and one world-wide religion. In this series we'll look at just how things may be shaking out for Satan and his human toadies as they maneuver to fulfill; - The Plan.

WHAT CONSPIRACY ?

“The ten horns you saw are ten kings who have not yet received a kingdom, but who for one hour will receive authority as kings along with the beast. They have one purpose and will give their power and authority to the beast.” (Revelation 17:12-13)

Zbigniew Brzezinski is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations (CFR), a co-founder of the Trilateral Commission and a National Security Advisor to five American presidents, - and the chief foreign policy advisor to President Carter. Here's what he had to say at Mikhail Gorbachev's State of the World Forum in 1995. “We cannot leap into world government through one quick step...The precondition for genuine globalization is progressive regionalization”.¹ He went on to describe his goal as “a more controlled society. Such a society would be dominated by an elite, unrestrained by traditional values”.² Did you catch the import of what he was saying? The goal, - that he and others among the world's movers and shakers have, - is WORLD GOVERNMENT, and the means to get there is the organization of nation states into regions; a la the EU.

The CFR, the Bildebergers, the Trilateralists, among others all seek a One World Government. Prime Ministers and Presidents are often just pawns in the game. President Theodore Roosevelt stated: “Behind the ostensible government sits enthroned an invisible government owing no allegiance and acknowledging no responsibility to the people. To destroy this invisible government ...is the first task of the statesmanship of today”.³ Woodrow Wilson confessed that “there is a power somewhere so organized, so subtle, so watchful, so interlocked, so complete, so pervasive, that [men] better not speak above their breath when they speak in condemnation of it”.⁴

The European Union is already well along that road toward regional amalgamation. The EU is taking on the shape and extent of the ancient Roman Empire as it draws its members continually into closer association, and begins to challenge the US in its super power status. North America beginning with NAFTA has started that same process rolling. In Africa and Asia and elsewhere other regions are in various stages of development along that same road. As President Carter's man Brzezinski stated in his seminal 1970 work,; Between Two Ages, “the nation-state is gradually yielding its sovereignty”. Odd for an American diplomat, one should think, in that his words echoed those of Lenin and Stalin who called for making national loyalties subservient to regional ones in the inevitable drive toward world government. So it all goes, - just as the Scriptures say!⁵

New Age guru and House of Philosophy head, Alice Bailey, wrote in her 1957 tome, The Externalization of the Hierarchy, that on the way to world government, the globe would first be organized into several Spheres of Influence. It was in 1974 that Mesrobian & Pestel gave details of the plan, revealing in their work, Mankind At

The Turning Point, that the world was to be divided into 10 ‘Super Nation States’ Both the European Union and a united North America were a part of that plan.⁶ Let’s start by taking a look at the EU, the region farthest along the road to becoming a ‘Super Nation’.

Europe Leads The Way

The New World Order, it seems, will be built on the European model. That model calls for a gradual, almost imperceptible advance toward globalization, where each step seems the natural and logically necessary next step. French Politician Jean Monnet was among the pioneers of the movement, that first began in the years following the First World War. His vision sought the unification of over 100 countries. Dr Thomas Ice describes it thus: “Monnet’s method was to propose a seemingly minor treaty” in which “was hidden a principal, which once made law, opened the door to a much larger application and expansion of the granted power”.⁷ That thought became mainstream among European thinkers. By 1946, even Winston Churchill was calling for a “United States of Europe” to “recreate the European family”.⁸

What has emerged from all of this is a European Union of 25 nations, with no internal borders to speak of, that is fast forming a united foreign policy and working toward a unified military. According to the Centre for European Reform, the EU hopes eventually to consist of “109 nations, including North and South America”. Even now, as promoted by Foreign Policy head, Javier Solana, the European Government is promoting a “Neighborhood Policy”, which seeks to emulate the borders of the old Roman Empire, by associating with such nations as Egypt and North Africa.⁹ There have even been discussions with Israel. Solana is working toward a Free Trade Zone that would take in the entire Mediterranean region; - to be set to go by 2010. But it does not stop even there. President Clinton’s Secretary of State Warren Christopher publicly set out the “long term objective” of integrating “the economies of North America and Europe”. Clinton Administration ally Senator Joe Biden, described two goals for the White House to pursue: Turning NATO into a “military instrument” of the UN and “the creation of a new world order”.¹⁰ Just how far President Clinton was willing to take his country in pursuit of those goals can be seen in the working out of the Yugoslav / Kosovo crisis of the 1990’s.

Now the Carnegie Endowment is one of those instruments of the movers and shakers that will produce academic papers to justify changes and new directions in Western, especially US foreign policy. In the early 1990’s they produced two such reports, -[one of them authored by Clintonian heavyweights Madeleine Albright, David Gergen and Admiral Crowe] – that called for American involvement and intervention when “a self-determination claim...becomes a humanitarian crisis”. What happened next, was revealed by the Canadian Ambassador to Yugoslavia years after the fact. “NATO countries were inciting violence in Kosovo and attempting to destabilize the Serbian province”. Britain sent Special Armed Forces to arm and train the Kosovo rebels they were creating. With British support they began a campaign of assassination, murder and chaos. NATO of course, blamed Yugoslavia entirely, conducting bombing raids until that country gave in to Western demands. Then, in the words of Ambassador James Bissett: “NATO then stood by and submissively allowed the KLA to murder, pillage and burn”.¹¹ It seems the US and NATO were willing to go to great lengths to create their New World Order.

Paradoxically, in its intervention into the Balkans, America and the Europeans were willing to take on as allies the radical Islamist forces that were the ideological soul-mates of Osama bin Laden’s al-Qaeda forces that were the sworn enemies of the West, - and all that it purportedly stood for. Dr Dennis Cuddy draws the connections for us. The de facto head of the EU, Javier Solana, - was supported by the likes of Bill Clinton and Strobe Talbot.

Richard Gardiner, another administration crony revealed the zeitgeist behind their internationalist thinking years before, - writing in 1974 about making “an end run around national sovereignty, eroding it piece by piece”.¹²

All of this however, is part of a plan of greater scope. It is the whole world they seek. Recall the words of Revelation 17:13: “They have one purpose and will give their power and authority to the beast.” The goal of the Illumined Elites is the total integration of all the peoples of the world into one great global system. All the way back in 1959, a report financed by the Rockefeller Brothers Fund, - The Mid-Century Challenge to US Foreign Policy laid out their goals for all who would see. “We cannot escape, and indeed should welcome, the task of helping to shape a new world order in all its dimensions – spiritual, economic, political, social”.¹³ That is the same Satanic vision that Scripture tells us will drive the Antichrist during the short reign of his kingdom at the End of Days. It is unfolding before our eyes.

MAKING SENSE OF PAKISTAN

Pakistan is a mess. Islamic radicals have launched over 40 suicide bombings in the country in 2007, killing over 770 people. The government of President Pervez Musharraf, a tepid supporter of the democratic movement at best, [with his imposition of martial law and manipulation of the election process], - has come out against the Muslim radicals, - yet is unable to control all of its own territory. The tribal regions have become a hotbed for Taliban and al-Qaeda activity. It is even believed that Osama bin Laden himself may be hiding in the mountainous regions near the Afghan border. However this is not just any other Muslim country. There is much at stake here. Iran may be working toward producing its’ own nuclear weapons to augment those bought off-the-shelf from the former Soviet Union, - but Pakistan is already the proud owner of about 70 atomic warheads;¹⁴ - the only Muslim country to openly possess the nuclear deterrent. And therein lies the danger.

To fully grasp the situation in that country we must understand that there is a veritable civil war being waged for control of this country. The struggle pits the pro-Western forces of President Musharraf and Bhutto’s Pakistan People’s Party on the one hand, against the radical Islamists under the banner of the Taliban, or al-Qaeda, - operating especially in outlying provinces such as Waziristan. It is there that since 2003, one Sheikh Essa, an Egyptian, has been preaching the radical brand of Islam, making disciples of the local warlords, as they increasingly wage open war against Musharraf, and his national army and any other perceived allies of the West; - Benazir Bhutto, for example. Taking their cues from Sheikh Essa, the militants have launched a series of assassination attempts against Musharaff. Former Prime Minister Bhutto was targeted upon her return from exile in October, when a baby was strapped with explosives and passed through the crowd. Over 150 were killed in that attempt. The government’s Interior Minister was a target of an attack in December. Al-Qaeda continued its attacks against other government official with mixed results, until they scored big with the murder of possibly their most dangerous enemy, former Prime Minister Bhutto. That attack was carried out using both automatic weapons and explosives. Both al-Qaeda and the Taliban seem to be implicated in the assassination, with bin-Laden’s forces claiming the credit, and the Pakistani government citing intelligence sources that confirm their involvement.^{15 16 17}

So here’s what’s at stake: control of Pakistan and her 70 nuclear warheads. The radicals hope that they will be able to destabilize the situation enough to stage a coup-d’etat, effectively turning control of the nuclear arsenal to the Taliban, or even Osama bin Laden himself. It should come as no surprise then that the Pentagon has concluded a new agreement with Pakistan that will see US Special Forces operating in the Paki areas near the Afghan border to root out terrorist cells. The Americans will begin by working with Pakistani regular army units on counter-insurgency techniques needed to regain control of the tribal areas.¹⁸

So, as America makes its counter play in the Terror War, al-Qaeda is doing the same. DEBKA is reports that bin-Laden, - in an attempt to reverse the recent gains made by American forces, - has transferred Fatah-el-Islam commander, Shaker al-Abessi to lead a new offensive against the US presence in Iraq. At the same time, Fatah el-Islam terrorists were moved across the Lebanese border into Gaza where they are already taking part in the missile offensive against the Jewish State. Taken together, all of this complicates the situation in Pakistan immensely. It is well known that Pakistan's regular military and intelligence services have long been infiltrated by radical Muslims loyal to the al-Qaeda ideology. This may have played a part in Bhutto assassination. Now it poses a further danger. The presence of American troops on the ground in Pakistan may be as much about clearing out the tribal areas as it is about being close enough to grab the nuclear warheads should the Musharaff government fall and the need arise to seize them.¹⁹ It is a very dangerous time indeed!

THE UNTHINKABLE REALITY

The headline in the Jerusalem Post nearly leapt off the page: "Israel must internalize divided J'lem". That's the message given by Israeli Prime Minister Ehud Olmert, in an interview with the Post. It comes at a time of existential chaos. Olmert told the Jerusalem daily that the message to Israel from the world, from the West and from its best friend, America is this: Give up land for peace; internalize the fact that Israel must return to the '67 borders. But the message from Arabs is: That will not be enough. They will brook no compromise and want the whole of Israel to be turned over to the Palestinian people. Foreign intelligence services have warned the Israelis that al-Qaeda is seeking to infiltrate Israel in order to carry out large scale attacks in the country. While in the past, Israel has successfully arrested al-Qaeda operatives trying to enter Israel as tourists, the threat remains very real. And a recent bin-Laden tape promised "blood for blood, destruction for destruction. We will not recognize even one inch for Jews in the Land of Palestine as other Muslims have", calling for its liberation "from the river to the sea". I doubt it an accident that Osama's declaration mirrored biblical language in its paraphrase. Deuteronomy 11:24 promises that Israel will extend "from the Euphrates River to the western sea".

Still the Israeli PM has chosen this time to speak plainly, saying that Israel has no choice in the matter. She must either divide or face "the end of the existence of Israel as a Jewish state". Olmert called for the complete separation between the Israelis and the Palestinians. You could almost hear his desperate cry for "peace and safety". Olmert explained, "the world that is friendly to Israel... speaks of Israel in terms of the '67 borders. It speaks of the division of Jerusalem."^{20 21 22} He is banking on the support of a large war-weary segment of Israelis who may be ready to compromise, - even on Jerusalem. Still 1Thessalonians 5:2-3 warns us: "...for you know very well that the day of the Lord will come like a thief in the night. While people are saying, "Peace and safety," destruction will come on them suddenly, as labor pains on a pregnant woman, and they will not escape."
