

THE PLAN – PART XIV

In this segment, we'll be looking for the glue that holds all of this together. This has not been the promotion of a conspiracy theory; - but rather a demonstration of just how the world works. What's amazing to those uninitiated in God's Word; - is that the Scriptures reveal just how it all plays out!

THE TIE THAT BINDS

“For the love of money is the root of all evil”. (1Timothy 6:10)

It is greed that drives the whole thing; - Greed for money and that a tool for the insatiable greed for power. That appetite for power that only complete financial control will bring, is what drives the Elites, - and it is what drives the most radical of the Communist movement. Consider the farthest ends of the political spectrum. Both Fascist /Nazi and the reddest Commie are both totalitarians at heart, believing that the violent coercion of the individual is a necessary price that must be paid in order to achieve the perfect society. Antony Sutton, author of Wall Street and the Bolshevik Revolution points out that if we consider just the amount of personal freedom allowed, the Fascists and the Bolsheviks end up at the same end of the political spectrum. The reason it's always been missed is that the left-leaning historians that inhabit our universities reject such an alliance out of hand. In his book, Sutton builds a convincing case that it is not a case of 'Socialist vs Capitalist' but rather 'Socialist & Capitalist' together. The Russia of the Czar's for instance, was replaced by an equally corrupt alliance of murdering Bolsheviks financed by Wall Street monopolist greed.¹

Gary Allen, author of the seminal 1971 work None Dare Call It Conspiracy, agrees, quoting Oswald Spengler in Decline of the West. “There is no proletarian, not even a Communist, movement, that has not operated in the interests of money, in the direction indicated by money, and for the time being permitted by money — and that without the idealists among its leaders having the slightest suspicion of the fact.” In the event, it was the Morgan interests that infiltrated and ultimately gained power over the far left in the first decade of the 20th century. At the same time the international bankers had managed to have the Constitution changed to set up the Federal Reserve System that would permanently put their own private banking interests in charge of the people's money. It was a brilliant scheme. With the new Federal Reserve System in place and a brand new progressive income tax that could provide the cash to pay the interest on the national debt, - the bankers could drive up the national debt, - while being the ones that collected on it. As the guys in the Guinness commercial are wont to say: “Brilliant!”²

The Morgans had their Guaranty Trust Company working with the Reds by 1917. The Rockefeller's may have been a little slower to get in the game, but made up for lost time in the 20's. In 1927 & 1928 alone, the Rockefeller controlled Standard Oil and Chase National Bank, built a refinery for the Commies, marketed their oil in Europe and sold Russian bonds. There is also evidence that the Soviet's were given “United States Treasury funds by the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks acting through the Chase Bank and the Guaranty Trust Company and other banks in New York City”.³ Rockefeller involvement continued right through the Krushchev era of the 50's & 60's. They grew so powerful in fact, that when Nelson Rockefeller's nemesis Richard Nixon became President in 1968, he would appoint a tried and true one-worlder like Henry Kissinger, a Rockefeller man to the core, and now a full fledged member of the Bildeberger crowd. The elites did not sacrifice power when they committed to supporting 'The Revolution'.

And it wasn't just the Russian Revolution that drew dollars from Wall Street. The money flowed to Carranza and Pancho Villa in Mexico; - to Sun Yat Sen in China; - to Mussolini's Fascists in Italy; - and as we have seen to Hitler and his Nazi's in Germany. These were equal opportunity monopolists, they were. In fact, in Russia, the money flowed to both the Reds and the Whites, - the forces that supported the restoration of the Czars. Better to hedge your bets than to be on the wrong side. They had learned well from the Rothschild's example in Europe.⁴

So what's the deal? These were monopolists in search of ever more power. The common denominator was state control. That's what the Railroad Barons wanted in the US in the 2nd half of the 19th century and that's what Hitler could offer in Germany, and Lenin / Trotsky in the Soviet Union and Mussolini in Italy: Unfettered profits. There was, for example another force in Russia, a truly democratic force during the Revolution that fought both Whites and Reds with an army at least 700,000 strong; - the Greens. They were given no help at all, and no mention in any of the standard histories. They offered nothing in return for aide; - so none was forthcoming.

What we were seeing then was Wall Street's play to establish nascent American Facism; - perhaps without the trappings of brutality, - perhaps, - unless it was needed of course. Sutton points here to a scheme of Andrew Carnegie's called the Marburg Plan. He describes it as a "premeditated program of power acquisition". Its object was to create a movement "to compel the formation of a league to enforce the peace". Thus the modern internationalist movement was born with Carnegie and Warburg and the others of the financial elite on board. Why not? Its object was a socialized world government with the real power remaining in the hands of the "international financiers". So they bought Woodrow Wilson along the way at a time when the greatest minds at the nation's universities were starting to teach Bolshevism. The idea was to establish ever more centralized governments to grease the profit-making machinery.

Here is Antony Sutton's summary. "This handful of bankers and promoters was not Bolshevik, or Communist, or socialist, or Democrat, or even American. Above all else these men wanted markets, preferably captive international markets - and a monopoly of the captive world market as the ultimate goal."⁵

In many ways the World Government of the monopolists has much in common with the vision put forth by HG Wells as first presented in his 1901 work: Anticipations. In that book, Wells envisioned a "New Republic" run by technocrats using scientific principles that would eventually span the entire globe. He predicted the massive suburban sprawl that would stretch all the way from New England to Washington, as well as the world of interstates and automobiles and trucks. This "New Republic" would consist of a federation of regions, and he accurately predicted a European super-state and a union of the US, Canada and Mexico to be component parts in it.

Then there is this disturbingly prescient prophesy. The new World Government will be run by an "outspoken Secret Society", an "open freemasonry", with the "prominent men...openly affiliated". The new governing entity would operate under a "reconstructed ethical system" a "new ethics", if you will. And this revamped morality will embrace something now somewhat anachronistically called, eugenics.⁶ Now eugenics defines itself as the "self-direction of human evolution", through means such as forced sterilization. It was used as an apologetic for the racially-biased, anti-Semitic policies of the Nazis.⁷ In Wells view it was to restrict the "procreation of base and servile types", the "people of the Abyss", such as Blacks, Jews, the diseased, the mentally deficient. Only through the grace of the elite, would some of these defectives be allowed to survive, - so long that is "that they do not propagate". Should they violate that caveat, the elites "will not hesitate to kill when that sufferance is abused". Wells's expands: "The men of the New Republic will not be squeamish, either in facing, or inflicting death". (You know, abortion & assisted suicide & euthanasia and the like!) It was HG Wells own student, Julian Huxley, the first director of UNESCO that would write the ethic of that UN organization, stating that UNESCO, must revisit the idea of eugenics, - discredited after the Nazi practices of WWII, - in order "that what is now unthinkable may at least become thinkable". Ah, the culture of death! Thus is the new ethic of people that brought us the UN.⁸

Neither Wells affinity for eugenics nor his promotion of a New World Order based upon open occultism should come as any surprise to those who have even casually looked into the matter. Take the eugenics issue first. Wells was a lover of Margaret Sanger, the founder of Planned Parenthood. Sanger was the backer of something she dubbed the "Negro Project" aimed at reducing the birth rate in the black community and thereby controlling their numbers. [We find Rockefeller money here too, supporting her projects.] In the words of Killer Angels' author George Grant, Sanger's characteristics and causes included; 'blatant racism, revolutionary socialism, sexual perversion'. Even in the 1940's, she was speaking openly about ways to address the "Negro Problem".⁹ Wells and Sanger were of like mind when it came to their racist, eugenics bent. His was apparent in his futuristic writings. This was the moral coin of the day.

As for occultism, - Wells was not a Freemason nor otherwise openly connected. However he did adopt their ethic in his writings and is recommended on the Church of Satan's fictional reading list.¹⁰ And his call for "open Freemasonry" was later restated by that high priestess of Theosophy herself, Alice Bailey, who predicted that a "restoration of the mysteries" would precede the New World Order and the coming of the New Age Christ or Antichrist.¹¹ In this both echoed Albert Pike himself who confirms the Masonic connection, calling for the same "restoration of the Mysteries" in his defining work, *Morals and Dogma*¹². And so we have come full circle. The Masons & Bildebergers & Theosophists, - the CFR, the RIIA, and Trilateral Commission, - the Rockefellers and Morgans and Warburgs and Rothschilds, - New Agers and Neo-Pagans, and radical environmentalists and yes, even Satanists are all working for the same ultimate end. In one way or another, they all have a part in the plan.

So we see today the internationalism of the Bildebergers, championed by an unapologetic David Rockefeller, - and allied with the same family and corporate interests that have existed for centuries. The European Union is a product and a tool, as is the soon to be formed North American Union and the Mediterranean Union and the regional groupings forming in South America and Africa and Asia. We've seen the evidence that this is the next phase of the agenda in the plan.

Through it all we must recall that this is at its source a war against not just Christianity but Jehovah God, the God of the Bible. Here are the words of Revelation 17:12-14: "And the ten horns which thou sawest are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but receive power as kings one hour with the beast. These have one mind, and shall give their power and strength unto the beast. These shall make war with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them". That's how this all turns out! That's THE PLAN!

END TIMES SEMINAR:

A seminar is scheduled for Saturday morning, May 3, 2008 at My Father's House, 140 Pound Rd, Elma, NY. Details to be announced. Rob Palaszewski will be speaking on Discerning the Times in which we live & The Plan for the Coming World Order. The seminar is intended as a warm-up for a full prophecy conference to be held in the Fall. May 3, 2008, - Hold that date !

'WHAT'S THAT GOT TO DO WITH ANYTHING ?'

Consider if you will, five seemingly unrelated stories. 1) There is a major food shortage, - and its likely to grow worse. 2) The dollar faces the possibility of collapse. 3) All Europe has caved in to demands to promote the militantly homosexual "Gay Pride" agenda. 4) The White House and the Robert's-run Supreme Court are in a struggle over state's rights and the International Court of Justice (ICJ). 5) There are growing pains as the new Civil Assistance Plan agreement takes shape. (That's the agreement between the US & Canada that would allow each others military to operate against civilians in the other country.) Let's start breaking this down.

The price of oil is driving up the cost of transportation which is driving up the cost of food. Add in freak weather conditions that have made farming even less predictable in many cases. Food riots have broken out in Cameroon, Burkina Faso, Egypt and Nigeria.^{13 14} The UN's World Food Program, which feeds around 73 million people, is in need of $500 million by May 1, to stave off a disaster. Globally, food prices have gone up 55% just since last June.¹⁵ Exacerbating the food situation, the US, - a major supplier of grain for export, - is now subsidizing the use of ethanol, - causing many farmers to reduce their food production in favor of fuel corn, further limiting supply and driving up the price. Then there is the increased demand of the exploding economies of India and China, - again putting pressure on the price of both food and fuel. Meanwhile the ballooning American debt is pushing down the value of the dollar against gold, & oil, & other currencies. Here's the Biblical take on just where this is eventually heading. "And when he had opened the third seal, I heard the third beast say, Come and see. And I beheld, and lo a black horse; and he that sat on him had a pair of balances in his hand. And I heard a voice in the midst of the four beasts say, A measure of wheat for a penny, and three measures of barley for a penny; and see thou hurt not the oil and the wine." (Revelation 6:5-6) Translation: A day's wage for some bread or a bit more barley; - barely enough for a person to live on. Famine conditions, - but the oil will still flow and the luxuries of the rich will be secure. That's what the world will face during the Tribulation. And that stage is being set.

It is the looming collapse of the dollar and the resulting implosion and subsequent reordering of the international economy that makes all of this possible. But aren't we protected by the Federal Reserve? Not hardly! The Fed is a private banking cabal that controls the issue of our currency and holds all debt, public and private. America can now barely raise the money to service the debt already incurred, - and yet new programs are proposed to drive us even deeper into debt. The Fed is today lowering interest rates, increasing credit, creating more debt; - along with more money which further drives down the value of the dollar. And now, fearing for the falling dollar, the world is turning away from American currency making the US economically weaker. It is a cycle without a visible end.¹⁶ Add to that the latest administration move that gives the Federal Reserve regulatory powers over the stock markets and further controls over the banking community.¹⁷ That's like putting the fox in charge of the hen house. The recent words of current Fed Chief Ben Bernanke confirmed what Nobel Prize winning economist Milton Friedman and others have been saying for years: It was the Fed itself that caused the Great Depression of the 1930's.¹⁸

What this is all about, - every story mentioned above, - is the centralization of control as the world prepares for world government. In Europe, the Gay Pride movement has cowed an entire continent into staging celebratory parades to promote that sick agenda. None dare protest or demur.¹⁹ In the US, the issue of sovereignty moved to the Supreme Court. It began with a ruling by the International Court of Justice, (a one-world body if there ever was one), that the sovereign state of Texas must revisit the convictions of 51 illegals. Texas refused. President Bush stepped in, ordering state judges to comply with international treaties. But in a moment of clarity and sanity, the Robert's Court voted 6 to 3 favor of the Constitution, - upholding the Texas courts and the State's Rights position.²⁰ Still, the growing momentum for the North American Union continues behind closed doors. In a mid-March confab at the State Department, the Advisory Committee on International Economic Policy discussed the continued integration of Canada, Mexico and the US, - as a preliminary move toward integration with the European Union. According to promoters of this scheme, open borders are a key element of the coming continental union.²¹ All of this should be seen in the context of the much-touted amero, a currency that would unite the three nations, - that is being promoted by numerous influential economists. It is to replace the dollar by 2010.

But of the 5 stories mentioned, the Canadian American Civil Assistance Plan, put in to effect earlier this year, is certainly the most disturbing. A report out of the Fort Fairfield (Maine) Journal highlights the stealth nature of what is going on. That paper revealed the confusion of Maine's state authorities regarding a plan that they had not been officially informed of, and of which they had learned of only from the newspaper itself. The story first broke in February of this year. The plan allows Canadian troops to enter the United States and operate under American authority to quell riots and civil disturbances.²² We fought a revolution against that very thing. It seems now, that decision has been reversed!

Taken together we perceive the pattern. There is an inevitable momentum of events leading to global consolidation. It may not always arise from decisions made in back rooms by cigar-smoking occultists, - the most high of the elite of the elite. Over the course of the last century or so they've indoctrinated a cadre to carry on the work. Their views have come to be regarded as the norm. And that signals victory for the religion of Humanism; - The triumph of selfishness. It seems the natural order. President Bush recognized as much at the Quebec Summit, supporting regional integration as the only way to compete with the changing economic order. Former UN Assistant Secretary General Robert Muller gave life to the ideal back in 1997. "[L]et us create regional units..the European Union, an American Union...And then we'll take the five continents, and the five continents, if they're united will create a World Union".²³ So the struggle continues. The dialectic goes forward. The Plan is advanced.
