THE OIL SPILL, ISRAEL & PALESTINE

“I will make you a great nation; I will bless you And make your name great; And you shall be a blessing. I will bless those who bless you, And I will curse him who curses you; And in you all the families of the earth shall be blessed.”

(God’s words to Abram [Abraham] found in Genesis 12:2-3)

What might the disaster in the Gulf, Israel and US foreign policy have in common? There may just be a connection tied into Scripture that reveals something of what God is doing and that signals the nearness of Christ’s return. This will not be the first time we’ve looked into the connection between the way the US treats Israel and disasters that ‘coincidentally’ strike America. Let’s set the stage. The United States has always been Israel’s oldest and best friend, but that is now changing. It is no secret that the Obama administration has altered American policy vis-à-vis Israel. We are now relentlessly moving toward that day prophesied by Zechariah when all nations turn against God’s people. [And it shall not turn out well for the nations of the world!] Zechariah 12:3 reads, “And it shall happen in that day that I will make Jerusalem a very heavy stone for all peoples; all who would heave it away will surely be cut in pieces, though all nations of the earth are gathered against it.” It has become policy now to seek to pressure Israel into giving away Judea & Samaria – (the West Bank) – as well as half of Jerusalem - which is land that has been deeded to the Jews by God. There is a price to pay for such a willful variance from God’s word. America will not always support God’s will for Israel. And America is not immune for the consequences of its disobedience. Now according to the words of Genesis 12:3 quoted above, God has promised to bless and curse – nations and people – according to the way they treat Israel. And as a matter of fact, we’ve seen that in operation now for some time. Bill Koenig, as well as John McTernan, among others, has pointed this out so well in the past. We’ll review some of what I’m talking about.

Here is the principle as stated in Obadiah 1:15. “For the day of the LORD upon all the nations is near; As you have done, it shall be done to you; Your reprisal shall return upon your own head.” Following are some examples of the principle in operation.

- October 30, 1991 - President Bush Sr sponsored the Madrid Conference which officially focused for the first time on trading land for peace. That same day, the Perfect Storm formed out in the Atlantic, turned and headed for New England, battering and damaging the President’s home in Kennebunkport, Maine with 30 ft waves.
- August 23, 1992 – A Washington Conference was the renewal of the one in Madrid. The subject was surrendering Judea and Samaria for peace. Hurricane Andrew struck South Florida. It was the largest disaster in US history with an eye over 30 miles wide.
- January 16, 1994 – President Clinton talked with Assad of Syria about Israel giving up the Golan Heights. A 6.9 earthquake hit California.
- September 28, 1998 – Clinton and Arafat discussed more land for peace schemes. Hurricane George hits the Gulf Region, only dissipating when Arafat leaves.
- October 1998 – President Clinton meets with Prime Minister Netanyahu, talking about the surrender of Israeli land. Heavy, flooding rains and a swarm of tornadoes hits Texas.
- November 30, 1998 - The President talks with Arafat about Jerusalem becoming the capital of a coming Palestinian state and giving the PLO $400 million. The Dow-Jones average plunges the next day.
- August 2005 – Israel finally responded to American pressure from President George W Bush and conducted a forced evacuation of Israelis from Gush Katiff. One week later Hurricane Katrina struck. Centering on New Orleans, it destroyed much of that city and “spoiled the "Southern Decadence" weekend planned by the homosexual community.”<sup>1 2 3</sup>

That’s the set up. Now here’s the connection with the oil spill disaster in the Gulf of Mexico. Follow this. Israel became an independent nation on May 14, 1948. Yet their Independence Day celebration falls on a different day every year. That’s because they use the 360 day Jewish lunar calendar. This year it fell on April 19th. That was the day that FOX News reported on President Obama’s new policy toward Israel. The US would no longer automatically support Israel at the UN. That was the culmination of a long slide in US-Israeli relations. That same day, Secretary of State Clinton signaled the change using ‘diplomatic speech’. In a statement regarding Israel’s future security she omitted the term “defensible borders” and called for “recognized borders” instead. That signaled the abandonment of a long-held principle of American foreign policy. The very next day – April 20th – the Deep Water Horizons oil rig exploded, killing 11 and setting off a stream of billions of gallons of oil into the Gulf. Coincidence? You do the math!<sup>4 5 6</sup> Yes, but who could imagine that the Very God that made the universe and holds it all together would act in such a way to make sure that His word remains valid and inviolate? For one, I can!! Colossians 1:16-17 tells us that Christ is forever involved in sustaining His creation. “For by him all things were created: things in heaven and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or powers or rulers or authorities; all things were created by him and for him. He is before all things, and in him all things hold together.” And Psalm 138:2 informs us just how seriously God takes His promises. “For You have magnified Your word above all Your name.” So when God promises blessings and curses determined by how we treat His people Israel, He means business. And we need take Him seriously.

ECONOMICS & REVOLUTION – PART XI

We’ve been looking at that strange marriage between Capitalism and Revolutionary Marxism. On what basis could these two possibly cooperate? The deeper we go, we find that the evidence reveals that the binding tie lay in the Powers-That-Be (PTB) that direct and control (if still imperfectly) global forces and trends. The agenda is nothing less than ‘Global Governance’, if you will. The complete control all things economic & political & religious. This is all moving toward a system of World Wide Corporate Fascism – controlled eventually by a coalition of Ten Kingdoms who will give all their authority to the Antichrist.

THE TIE THAT BINDS

“For the love of money is the root of all evil”. (1Timothy 6:10)

It is greed that drives the whole thing; - Greed for money; - and that, - a tool for the insatiable greed for power. That appetite for power that only complete financial control will bring, is what drives the Elites, - and it is what drives the most radical of the Communist movement. Which is why it is so interesting to consider the make-up of the Obama administration. The President – himself steeped by both education and experience – in the fulcrum of radical-left politics - has surrounded himself with those of like mind. We’ve rehearsed it before, so there’s no need to more than mention the likes of Cass Sunstein and Van Jones and the SEIU and other redistributionists that comprise the philosophical cadre that flanks and supports the oval office. Now we need add Dr Donald Berwick, President Obama’s recent recess appointment to oversee Medicare and Medicaid. [A recess appointment is one that is made when Congress is out of session – generally for avoiding a bloody confirmation fight. And in this case: How convenient!] Berwick is nothing, if not a redistributionist. And the redistribution of wealth is the very bedrock of Marxism. “From each according to their abilities, to each according to their needs.” Need some quotes? The good doctor confessed that he was, “romantic about the NHS”; Britain’s National Health Service that produces significantly longer waits to see specialists and higher death rates in the case of many cancers. Berwick goes on to explain. “Any health care funding plan that is just, equitable, civilized and humane must, must redistribute wealth from the richer among us to the poorer and the less fortunate. Excellent health care is by definition redistributive.”<sup>7</sup> So there you have it: - the admission that national health care is but a means to an end – and that end is the transfer of wealth from the producing class to the consuming class. Ah, socialism is a lovely thing! And it is a matter of asserting power and control. This is the TRANSFORMATION that is right now playing out. This is the outworking of the revolutionary spirit last seen in full flower during the 1960s.

So let’s look at the forces behind what is fast unfolding. Consider the farthest ends of the political spectrum. Both Fascist /Nazi and the reddest Commie are both totalitarians at heart, believing that the violent coercion of the individual is a necessary price that must be paid in order to achieve the perfect society. Antony Sutton, author of Wall Street and the Bolshevik Revolution points out that if we consider just the amount of personal freedom allowed, the Fascists and the Bolsheviks end up at the same end of the political spectrum. The reason it’s always been missed is that the left-leaning historians that inhabit our universities reject such an alliance out of hand. In his book, Sutton builds a convincing case that it is not a case of ‘Socialist vs Capitalist’ but rather ‘Socialist & Capitalist’ together. The Russia of the Czar’s for instance, was replaced by an equally corrupt alliance of murdering Bolsheviks financed by Wall Street monopolist greed.<sup>8</sup>

Gary Allen, author of the seminal 1971 work None Dare Call It Conspiracy, agrees, quoting Oswald Spengler in Decline of the West. “There is no proletarian, not even a Communist, movement, that has not operated in the interests of money, in the direction indicated by money, and for the time being permitted by money — and that without the idealists among its leaders having the slightest suspicion of the fact.” In the event, it was the Morgan interests that infiltrated and ultimately gained power over the far left in the first decade of the 20th century. At the same time the international bankers had managed to have the Constitution changed to set up the Federal Reserve System that would permanently put their own private banking interests in charge of the people’s money. It was a brilliant scheme. With the new Federal Reserve System in place and a brand new progressive income tax that could provide the cash to pay the interest on the national debt, - the bankers could drive up the national debt, - while being the ones that collected on it. As the guys in the Guinness commercial are wont to say: “Brilliant!”<sup>9</sup>

The Morgans had their Guaranty Trust Company working with the Reds by 1917. The Rockefeller's may have been a little slower to get in the game, but made up for lost time in the 20's. In 1927 & 1928 alone, the Rockefeller controlled Standard Oil and Chase National Bank, built a refinery for the Commies, marketed their oil in Europe and sold Russian bonds. There is also evidence that the Soviets were given "United States Treasury funds by the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks acting through the Chase Bank and the Guaranty Trust Company and other banks in New York City".<sup>10</sup> The Fed itself was loaning millions to the Bolshevik Russian dictatorial regime. During World War I, things got so bad that the international banker types were willing to sacrifice tens of thousands of human souls so they could continue to line their pockets. During the Reece Congressional investigatory hearings of 1953, evidence of the workings of the Carnegie Board was introduced that was most damning. In their recorded minutes there was record of a communication to President Wilson asking that he "see to it that the War does not end too quickly".<sup>11</sup> Rockefeller involvement with the Reds continued right through the Krushchev era of the 50's & 60's. They grew so powerful in fact, that when Nelson Rockefeller's nemesis Richard Nixon became President in 1968, he would appoint a tried and true one-worlder like Henry Kissinger, a Rockefeller man to the core, and now a full fledged member of the Bildeberger crowd. The elites did not sacrifice power when they committed to supporting 'The Revolution'.

It wasn't just the Russian Revolution that drew dollars from Wall Street. The money flowed to Carranza and Pancho Villa in Mexico; - to Sun Yat Sen in China; - to Mussolini's Fascists in Italy; - and as we have seen to Hitler and his Nazi's in Germany. These were equal opportunity monopolists, they were. In fact, in Russia, the money flowed to both the Reds and the Whites, - the forces that supported the restoration of the Czars. Better to hedge your bets than to be on the wrong side. They had learned well from the Rothschild's example in Europe.<sup>12</sup>

So what's the deal? These were monopolists in search of ever more power. The common denominator was state control. That's what the Railroad Barons wanted in the US in the 2nd half of the 19th century and that's what Hitler could offer in Germany, and Lenin / Trotsky in the Soviet Union and Mussolini in Italy: Unfettered profits. There was, for example another force in Russia, a truly democratic force during the Revolution that fought both Whites and Reds with an army at least 700,000 strong; - the Greens. They were given no help at all, and no mention in any of the standard histories. They offered nothing in return for aide; - so none was forthcoming.

What we were seeing then was Wall Street's play to establish nascent American Fascism; - perhaps without the trappings of brutality, - perhaps, - unless it was needed of course. Sutton points here to a scheme of Andrew Carnegie's called the Marburg Plan. He describes it as a "premeditated program of power acquisition". Its object was to create a movement "to compel the formation of a league to enforce the peace". Thus the modern internationalist movement was born with Carnegie and Warburg and the others of the financial elite on board. Why not? Its object was a socialized world government with the real power remaining in the hands of the "international financiers". So they bought Woodrow Wilson along the way at a time when the greatest minds at the nation's universities were starting to teach Bolshevism. The idea was to establish ever more centralized governments to grease the profit-making machinery.

Here is Antony Sutton's summary. "This handful of bankers and promoters was not Bolshevik, or Communist, or socialist, or Democrat, or even American. Above all else these men wanted markets, preferably captive international markets - and a monopoly of the captive world market as the ultimate goal."<sup>13</sup>

In many ways the World Government of the monopolists has much in common with the vision put forth by HG Wells as first presented in his 1901 work: Anticipations. In that book, Wells envisioned a "New Republic" run by technocrats using scientific principles that would eventually span the entire globe. He predicted the massive suburban sprawl that would stretch all the way from New England to Washington, as well as the world of interstates and automobiles and trucks. This "New Republic" would consist of a federation of regions, and he accurately predicted a European super-state and a union of the US, Canada and Mexico to be its' component parts.

Then there is this disturbingly prescient prophesy. The new World Government will be run by an "outspoken Secret Society", an "open freemasonry", with the "prominent men...openly affiliated". The new governing entity would operate under a "reconstructed ethical system" a "new ethics", if you will. This revamped morality will embrace something now somewhat anachronistically called, eugenics.<sup>14</sup> Now eugenics defines itself as the "self-direction of human evolution", through means such as forced sterilization. It was used as an apologetic for the racially-biased, anti-Semitic policies of the Nazis.<sup>15</sup> In Wells view it was to restrict the "procreation of base and servile types", the "people of the Abyss", such as Blacks, Jews, the diseased, the mentally deficient. Only through the grace of the elite, would some of these defectives be allowed to survive, - so long that is "that they do not propagate". Should they violate that caveat, the elites "will not hesitate to kill when that sufferance is abused". Wells's expands: "The men of the New Republic will not be squeamish, either in facing, or inflicting death". (You know, abortion & assisted suicide & euthanasia & the like!) It was HG Wells own student, Julian Huxley, the first director of UNESCO (the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization) that would write the ethic of that UN organization, stating that UNESCO, must revisit the idea of eugenics, - discredited after the Nazi practices of WWII, - in order “that what is now unthinkable may at least become thinkable”. Ah, the culture of death! Thus is the new ethic of people that brought us the UN.<sup>16</sup>

Neither Wells affinity for eugenics nor his promotion of a New World Order based upon open occultism should come as any surprise to those who have even casually looked into the matter. Take the eugenics issue first. Wells was a lover of Margaret Sanger, the founder of Planned Parenthood. Sanger was the backer of something she dubbed the “Negro Project” aimed at reducing the birth rate in the black community and thereby controlling their numbers. [We find Rockefeller money here too, supporting her projects.] In the words of Killer Angels’ author George Grant, Sanger’s characteristics and causes included; ‘blatant racism, revolutionary socialism, sexual perversion’. Even in the 1940’s, she was speaking openly about ways to address the “Negro Problem”.<sup>17</sup> Wells and Sanger were of like mind when it came to their racist, eugenics bent. His was apparent in his futuristic writings. This was the moral coin of the day.

As for occultism, - Wells was not a Freemason nor otherwise openly connected. However he did adopt their ethic in his writings and is recommended on the Church of Satan’s fictional reading list.<sup>18</sup> His call for “open Freemasonry” was later restated by that high priestess of Theosophy herself, Alice Bailey, who predicted that a “restoration of the mysteries” would precede the New World Order and the coming of the New Age Christ or Antichrist.<sup>19</sup> In this both echoed Albert Pike himself who confirms the Masonic connection, calling for the same “restoration of the Mysteries” in his defining work, Morals and Dogma<sup>20</sup>. So we have come full circle. The Masons & Bildebergs & Theosophists, - the CFR, the RIIA, and Trilateral Commission, - the Rockefellers and Morgans and Warburgs and Rothschilds, - New Agers and Neo-Pagans, and radical environmentalists and yes, even Satanists are all working for the same ultimate end. In one way or another, they all have a part in the plan.

So we see today the internationalism of the Bildebergers, championed by an unapologetic David Rockefeller, - and allied with the same family and corporate interests that have existed for centuries. The European Union is a product and a tool, as is the soon to be formed North American Union and the Mediterranean Union and the regional groupings forming in South America and Africa and Asia. We’ve seen the evidence that this is the next phase of the agenda in the plan.

Through it all we must recall that this is at its source a war against not just Christianity but Jehovah God, the God of the Bible. Here are the words of Revelation 17:12-14: “And the ten horns which thou sawest are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but receive power as kings one hour with the beast. These have one mind, and shall give their power and strength unto the beast. These shall make war with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them”. That’s how this all turns out! That’s THE PLAN!

UPDATE: ISRAEL

Here’s just a few quick points we shouldn’t ignore; - developments of these first weeks of July, 2010.

1. With the seeming support of ‘Big Daddy’ Ahmadinejad, Hezbollah has moved 20,000 troops and a “vast rocket arsenal” to the border with Israel. The IDF has responded by moving up tanks and other armored assets to oppose them.<sup>21 22</sup>
2. ‘Moderate’ Palestinian chief - and Israel’s designated peace partner - Mahmoud Abbas recently told Arab leaders that he would be willing to lead the Palestinians into a coalition against Israel. “If you want war, and if all of you will fight Israel, we are in favor.” That’s the guy that’s supposed trade peace for Israeli land.<sup>23</sup>
3. Haaretz reports that President Obama phoned Abbas to tell him he will ‘make every effort’ to insure the creation of a Palestinian state.<sup>24</sup>
