THE RABBI KNOWS...

This story first surfaced several years ago – and I covered it then. So here it is again in brief. Rabbi Yitzhak Kaduri was 108 years old and one of the most respected rabbis in Israel. A few months before he died he had told his followers that he had met Messiah in a vision. He even preached a message on how to recognize the Messiah when he comes. He said that Messiah told him that He would be coming soon – and in fact would appear after the death of former Prime Minister Ariel Sharon, who remains in a coma after his stroke of several years ago. Kaduri knew that belief in Messiah will be a difficult thing. He said, “It will be easier for non-religious people to follow the Messiah than for Orthodox people.” Still in his last days, Rabbi Kaduri talked about the Messiah almost without ceasing. Shortly before his death, he wrote a note that was to remain sealed for one year. That note, he said would reveal the name of Messiah. When he died hundreds of thousands mourned in Israel. One year later the note was dutifully opened. In Hebrew it reads: “Yarim Ha’Am Veyokhiakh Shedvaro Vektorato Omdim.” Translated it means: “He will lift the people and prove that his word and law are valid.” The note was an acrostic. In Hebrew, the first letters spelled out the name of Messiah. The reaction of the Rabbi’s Orthodox seminary followers to the revelation of the name was understandably less than enthusiastic. They “argued that their master did not leave the exact solution for decoding the Messiah’s name.” You see, the name that the acrostic spelled out was Yehoshua or Yeshua. In English, we would say, Jesus. The Rabbi had been given the name of Messiah. It is Jesus!¹

What makes this doubly interesting right now, is that Ariel Sharon has just been sent home from the hospital, diagnosed to be “in a permanent vegetative state.”² No one can know how long he will linger, or whether there is a real connection between the return of the Christ / Messiah and the future death of Ariel Sharon. But Amos 3:7 does say this. “For the Lord GOD does nothing without revealing His secrets to his servants the prophets.” And if the note is indeed genuine – and we have no reason to believe otherwise – we can know for sure that Rabbi Kaduri did hear from God as to the identity of the Messiah. It is Yehoshua / Yeshua / Jesus!!! That’s something you can take to the bank.

AS IN THE DAYS OF NOAH – PART VI

“And as it was in the days of Noe, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man.” (Luke 17:26)

We have looked at the origins of Satan’s religion through the first King / High Priest Nimrod, back in ancient Babylon. Now we will begin to examine something so much more sinister, systemic and potentially fatal to the human condition; - the concept that the human race has been systematically and covertly corrupted through infiltration. It’s all part of Satan’s plan to thwart God’s purposes.

INFILTRATION

“When man began to multiply on the face of the land and daughters were born to them, the sons of God saw that the daughters of man were attractive. And they took as their wives any they chose. ...The Nephilim were on the earth in those days, and also afterward, when the sons of God came in to the daughters of man and they bore children to them. These were the mighty men who were of old, the men of renown.” (Genesis 6:1-2, 4)

On the face of it this has to be the craziest looking verse in the Scriptures. If we want to find out what it means, were going to have to look deeply into its meaning. Let’s start with the phrase, “sons of God”. The Hebrew term is B’nai HaElohim, or the sons of Elohim, - used in the Old Testament to describe angels. Angels? Which angels? Well we get a clue from looking at Jude 1:6-7; “...the angels who did not keep their proper domain, but left their own abode...as Sodom and Gomorrah...having given themselves over to sexual immorality and strange flesh”. So we’re talking about Fallen Angels here, Satan’s minions, those who followed him in rebellion; - and then partook in what another translation describes as “fornication” with the daughters of men. These angels had left their “proper domain” or left “their first estate”.

In other words, - as is the ability of angels, - they took on some sort of physical form to copulate with human women to produce the “Nephilim” or “mighty men” of old.³ Now according to the Torah, ancient rabbinical sources and the early Church fathers, the Nephilim referred to the offspring, - products of this union between Fallen Angels and human women.⁴ What’s also interesting is that the notion that evil spirit beings procreated with humans creating “weird hybrid offspring” is found in the mythology of almost all ancient cultures; - from the Middle East to India, to the South Seas to America’s Indians.⁵ The mythology of the ancient Greeks, Middle Eastern, Nordic and other peoples are filled with stories of sexual unions between god/men and demigods.

What’s really interesting is that this commonality of beliefs across cultures extended in so many areas relating to the story of man’s origins and his relationships with the spirit world. Even more amazing is the fact that these cultures all, - at least in a dim way, - paralleled the story found in Holy Scripture. The belief systems of the most ancient of cultures in Sumeria, Mesopotamia, Babylon and down to the Greeks, - in fact all pagan systems; - were rooted in the very beginning with a belief in an all-powerful creator God. In their respective scenarios this was uniformly followed by a struggle between the “ruler of the heavens” and a “ruler of the air”. This story exactly mirrors Biblical⁶ belief, with Ephesians 2:2 referring to Satan as “the prince of the power of the air”. Characterizing his evil nature, the passage goes on to describe him as “the spirit who now works in the sons of disobedience”.

There is a further tie. The man called Nimrod in Genesis, - (the founder of False religion and builder of the Tower of Babel), - is the same as a character found in the literature of the Sumerians, Babylonians, Assyrians and others. The name given there is Gilgamesh; - and he is described as 2/3 god and 1/3 man, evil of appetite, - pornographically depraved and acting in direct defiance of the God of Israel. (Even the text of the pagan Gilgamesh Epic suggests this. The language of Genesis 10:9 directly parallels that found in the written version of that Mesopotamian myth.)

So let’s go down yet a little deeper. All of these manifestations of the pagan religions came with a pantheon of gods and demigods. It mirrors closely the Scriptural account of the activities of the Fallen Angels presented in Genesis 6. Beginning in Genesis 10, references are made to the “land of Shinar”, which means ‘Land of the Watchers’. And Daniel 4 refers repeatedly to “Watchers” which it equates with “holy one[s]” sent from God to accomplish specific tasks. That is precisely the role that Scripture assigns to angelic beings; to serve as messengers for God. Of course there were angels, or watchers who, with Satan, rebelled against God. Egyptians believed they migrated originally from Watcher territory, - “from which the gods came into Egypt”. The Book of the Dead, Sumerian literature and extra-Biblical literature such as the Book of Enoch, - all refer to Watchers. This is a concept described in that Book of Enoch as “Watchers of the heaven who have left the high heaven, the holy eternal place, and have defiled themselves with women”. (From: 1Enoch 10)

In his 1970’s best seller Chariots of the God’s, Erich Von Daniken popularized the notion that there is a direct connection between the Nephilim (Watchers & pagan gods and their hybrid offspring), - with the flying saucers and alien presence that seems to have manifested itself with increasing frequency since 1948. He ties the alien “Greys” with these demonic presences.⁸ Look at Luke 21:25-26: “And there will be signs in the sun, in the moon, and in the stars; and on the earth distress of nations, with....men’s hearts failing them from fear and the expectation of those things which are coming on the earth, for the powers of the heavens will be shaken”. Now look at another passage, Luke 17:26. “And as it was in the days of Noah, so it will be also in the days of the Son of Man”. What is it that Jesus is warning of in these two passages? Chuck Missler asks: “Is it possible that UFOs – and their occupants – are part of an end-times scenario?”⁹ It is interesting that according to New Age / Illuminati author Peter Lemesurier, they are indeed. In his 1981 book, The Armageddon Script, he reveals a plan to bring about One-World-Government under a New Messiah, that includes, - (besides some very specific wars and a nuclear crisis with North Korea), - a plan to have alien beings manifest themselves to mankind.¹⁰ When I first read that, it sounded so crazy to me that I kept it out of a series of lectures and writings that I was doing at the time; - to protect the perception of my own sanity. I have since become convinced that the idea of an alien invasion has become mainstreamed in a large portion of New Age / Illuminati thinking.

Von Daniken is not the only expert on the extraterrestrial phenomena to see a connection between the supposed space alien and the beings from another dimension. There are several reasons why this way of thinking seems entirely logical. First there is the observed behavior of UFOs. Studying the rash of sightings in Mexico in the 90’s, one expert described how these objects “defy physics as we understand” it.¹¹ In general, very reliable sources such as pilots, law enforcement officers etc, report that these flying objects change shape, dematerialize, “merge into a single object”, and increase their speed as much as six-fold in a single second. They could seemingly appear and disappear at will, defy physics by making right angle turns at 15,000 mph and travel 25,000 mph without making a sonic boom¹² They display properties of being both physical and massless at the same time, - yet leaving the physical evidence of their presence by showing up on radar as well as through burn marks and radiation. The world’s leading UFOlogist, Jacques Valee, (not a Christian), says “UFO’s may not come from ordinary space...[this phenomena]...transcends time and transcends space”. Valee believes that we are “dealing instead with a parallel universe”.¹³ In their book Alien Encounters, Chuck Missler and Mark Eastman point out that what we are likely confronting is other dimensions, - perceived as it were, - in only a very limited way. Human beings are used to operating in only 3-dimensions. Scientists now believe there may be as many as ten.

What Are We Talking About?

As crazy as all of this may sound, those who look at these things realize that something is happening that requires explanation. Ever since the Roswell incident in 1947,(the supposed crash of an alien space craft into the New Mexican desert, - complete with recovered 'space alien') - thousands upon thousands of sightings have been recorded of what very reliable people believe to be craft and beings from outside of the earthly realm. Thousands more believe they have been abducted. Here's some of the evidence.

- In January of 2007, United Airlines employees (they know their way around planes, I'd say), reported seeing a flying saucer like craft hovering and bolting about.¹⁴
- Again in that same month a retired F-16 pilot made a similar sighting over Arkansas.¹⁵ In their 1997 book, Missler & Eastman pointed to over 700 UFO reports by pilots alone.¹⁶
- During the 1990's in Mexico there were numerous sightings and photographs and videotapes, - some witnessed by high ranking government officials, - of whole fleets of UFO's - repeatedly.¹⁷
- From November 1989 to March 1990 occurred something dubbed 'The Belgian Wave', when over 26,000 sightings were reported, - many by government and military officials.¹⁸
- In March of 1997, both CNN and FOX broadcast footage of flocks of UFOs flying in formation over Phoenix, Arizona.^{19 20} UFOs continue to make appearances over Phoenix on a regular basis.
- Not long ago India's mainstream media reported that the government is contemplating 'coming clean' about the whole UFO phenomena. According to the India Daily, "all the five nuclear powers are in contact with the beings from other stars for quite some time". According to the paper however, there are international protocols that prohibit disclosure, - in order to prevent panic.²¹

That's just a sampling of the body of evidence of something going on, that is cutting across cultural lines, all across the globe. That same record of other-worldly contact exists across ancient cultures too. Myths and historical records (drawings, pictographs), were but the efforts of those societies to communicate something about that contact. It was about 5,500 years ago that Sumerian civilization sprang into being, - seemingly out of nowhere. In the words of Tom Horn, the Sumerians appeared with a fully developed "first written language and a corpus of progressive knowledge - from complicated religious concepts, to an advanced understanding of astrology, chemistry, and mathematics". Sumerian, then Assyria and later the Zoroastrian and even Egyptian hieroglyphs provided a detailed record of contact with beings, (gods), that descended from the sky on "flying discs".²² So if we've established that something is definitely going on; we need to ask ourselves: 'What could it all mean?'. And that's the point we'll pick it up fromnext time.

THE CHANGING ORDER

Recent events have signaled some seismic shifts in the world order. Here's just a few of them that are pointing toward a changing of the guard; - a New World Order, if you will.

KINGS OF THE EAST ON THE RISE - The Book of Revelation talks about the rise of the Kings of the East and how one day they will lead an army of 100 million across Asia, bent on the invasion of Israel. That would be really hard to achieve as long as America remains the lone and dominant superpower. But times, they are a changing! Besides that a number of prophecy scholars have noted that the US would have to come down a peg in order to achieve global governance. Right now, Washington is basically engaging in a currency war with China. By essentially printing up nearly an additional $1 trillion devalues the real value of our money. China has been a giant buyer of US Government debt. So the US is offering to pay them back in cheaper dollars. That's not going over so well with the Chinese. So one wonders: Are some of these events related?

The Chinese Navy seemed like it was making a point when one of their submarines slipped by several US warships - including a couple of American subs - undetected and surfaced within striking distance of the carrier USS Kittyhawk. This happened while the American fleet was conducting maneuvers in the area between Japan and Taiwan. The successful Chinese ploy said volumes about the advanced capabilities of the Chinese and the relative vulnerability of the US Navy.²³ Then there was the "incident" of something that flew up from the ocean off California leaving an 'interesting' contrail behind. The Pentagon is now claiming that this was just a jet - but the video and witnesses give the lie to the government claims. Those who saw it all agree that it emerged from under the water at blinding speed, headed straight up, - its shape, "long and thin like a cigar". SteveQuayle.com added this: "Bulletins began to pop up totally independent of this event that nuclear explosion monitoring stations around the world had just picked up an "event" somewhere in the world. Not one report connected the two events. Ooops! Somebody suddenly connected the two. This was on Google News for all of about six minutes -- then gone. No trace anywhere. There were at least a dozen reports from monitoring stations then the news was GONE!!" The article's writer opined that he believed it to be a Chinese

ICBM, firing a “warning shot” over the US’s financial shenanigans. One witness believed he saw markings that could have been Chinese. After all, Chinese subs are routinely spotted off our Pacific coast.²⁴

Is China really a looming serious rival to the US. According to one economic research group, it is indeed. A story in the UK’s Telegraph informs us that – as far as purchasing power is concerned, - China will surpass the US economy by 2012. (Now that’s not in dollars – but in what goods and services the currency will buy.) By 2020, they project that China will produce 24.1% of the world’s output while the US will account for about 14.8%.²⁵ Interesting trends, these!

EUROPE AND A REVIVED ROME – EU President Herman Van Rumpuy announced to the world that “the time of the homogenous nation state is over.” Van Rumpuy is making the case for the emerging New World Order. “In every member state”, he said, “there are people who believe their country can survive alone in the globalized world. It is more than an illusion. It is a lie.” He went on to rail against nationalism of any kind, saying that nationalism is selfish and egotistical and concluding that “nationalism leads to war.”²⁶ In these sentiments he is not very far from President Obama, the G-20, or even Iran’s Ahmadinejad. (The latter is proposing an Asian Union for economic purposes.²⁷)

ASCENDANT ISLAM – There are now about 2.8 million Muslims living in the UK comprising 4.6% of the population. But they are gaining an influence far out of line with their numbers. In fact, they are transforming British society and culture. Soeren Kern, writing for Hudson New York, catalogues some of the more outrageous occurrences that have cropped up since the government passed the Racial and Religious Hatred Act of 2006. One college removed the words Christmas and Easter from their calendar not to offend Muslims. A Christian radio host was fired in Scotland for conducting a debate between a Muslim and a Christian over whether Jesus is “the way, the truth and the life”. Christians were told that they cannot preach in a Muslim area. A 14 year old Catholic girl was disciplined by school officials when she refused to dress like a Muslim and visit a mosque. In East London, members of a town council were told not to eat during daylight hours during Ramadan. In Harrow, it was decided that the 52 primary schools it controls would only serve meals prepared according to Sharia law. British airways allows Muslim staff to wear veils while Christians are not allowed to wear crosses. Kern tells us too, about the British prison system. In some facilities “radical Muslim gangs are imposing Sharia law on non-Muslim inmates, who have been forced to stop playing Western music, take down pictures of women from their cells and stop eating sausage. The gangs are also targeting non-Muslim inmates for forced conversions to Islam.” And there is a further legal patina to all of this. At minimum, 85 Sharia courts are operating in the country.²⁸

CHANGES ON THE HOMEFRONT – In fact there are changes that are beginning to redefine just what comprises the ‘home front’. A Mexican news outlet is reporting that the US will be setting up what it calls a “Super Spy Center” in Mexico City. According to Deadline Live, the CIA, FBI, DEA, Defense Intelligence Agency and other US spy organizations – including a Military representative from NORTHCOM – the Pentagon’s military arm on the home front – will now be “in charge of all tactical efforts against the drug war, counter insurgency, and counter-terrorism” activities in the country. They have been given the green light by Mexico’s President Calderon to spy on organized drug-crime syndicates but also Mexican government agencies.²⁹ The US, Mexico and Canada have made great strides – albeit under the radar – under the Bush Administration. Working groups have been put in place – to tackle the technical, economic and legal infrastructure questions. They are operating, as far as can be determined, without the approval of Congress, as they work toward implementing the Security and Prosperity Partnership signed by the three nations.³⁰ Speaking back in 2006, Mexico’s UN Ambassador at the time called for a North American Union to be in place by 2014.³¹ His words merely echoed that of former Mexican President Vincente Fox in calling for a merger between Mexico, the United States and Canada.³²

Besides subtle moves toward a merger, there is something else going on here at home; the growing emergence of a police state culture. I’m talking specifically about the new screening moves being instituted at airports by the Transportation Safety Administration – an arm of the Department of Homeland Security. Passengers now going through airport checkpoints are being subjected to a new level of security procedures that include new pat downs that find agents groping in private areas and x-ray machines that create “vivid pictures ...of people’s naked bodies.” I watched one You Tube video from a news sight in which a federal agent fondled and probed a 2-year old as she screamed and kicked. [I guess she still minded being molested (legally?) even though it was to ensure that she wasn’t carrying a pipe bomb or a box cutter or perhaps 6 ounces of shampoo.] One CNN employee described her encounter with the new procedures. “Rosemary Fitzpatrick, a CNN employee, said she was subjected to a pat-down at the Orlando, Florida airport...According to Fitzpatrick, a female screener ran her hands around her breasts, over her stomach, buttocks and her inner thighs, and briefly touched her crotch. I felt helpless, I felt violated, and I felt humiliated.”³³ ³⁴ I guess that’s where “peace and safety” are taking us. Even the former director of TSA security operations admitted as much. “We’re not dictating these events that are occurring,” he said. They “are driving us as a society to have to go to these measures.”³⁵
